UMD have donated $600.00 towards The National Breast Cancer Foundation

The National Breast Cancer Foundation (NBCF) was established in 1994 to promote and support breast cancer research.

Breast cancer is one of the leading causes of cancer death in Australian women. The NBCF funds research into all aspects of the disease including prevention, diagnosis, treatment and support.

The incidence of breast cancer is increasing, but with continued support and funding from the NBCF, improvements in research mean survival rate is on the rise.
